Residential English Language Summer School & English Language Courses

Sunday 12 July – Sunday 9 August 2015 (4 weeks)

'Lite' Programme: any 2 weeks between 12 July and 9 August 2015

'I am proud that my daughter is given this opportunity. I would like to return as student or as staff.'

Learn English with fun activities and sports at Vacation Studies on our beautiful countryside campus in Newbury, Berkshire, UK.

'After all these years, I still rank the time spent at Vacational studies among the top experiences of my life. I am now looking forward to sending my two sons over, sure that, like me, they will meet their best friends ever, cry to the notes of 'Leaving on a jet plane' ... and improve their English, too.'

'I have such great memories from my two summers at Vacational Studies. Truly a great Investment for my future studies and job opportunities.'

Coming on a VacStuds Course is a big adventure that universities and future employers should know about. The best way to learn English is to work in England with English people. Our students work on a task-based project and you can see their achievements on our web site afterwards.

‘I discovered a wealth of short videos where you explain the ‘English way’. I love it. It seems like a journey back in time when you were explaining to us how to make an English queue in front of the canteen and many other essential behaviours.’

‘I shouldn’t cry because it ended; I should smile because it happened! ’

‘The times might be different, the people too... but the emotions running through those faces are the same. To the new generation: ENJOY!’

‘The best ‘life present’ I’ve had...
thanks to my parents.’

Sports are an important part of the Course. They help you learn the language and make friends quickly. You will get the chance to play football, basketball, volleyball, baseball, tennis, table-tennis and swimming...

has been!’

What a great experience!'

Smile, your future is bright!

'He has made very big advances in his English skills, and we can see this in his daily school work here in the Faroes. The advances are exceeding anything that we even dreamt of. But the most important thing that we want to mention is the fact that he has grown as a person. He was only 13 when attending, but he managed these challenges very well. He has taken with him the experience from the tour and the stay at Mary Hare. He has a network with friends from all over the world. This can only be good in the future. He is very keen on returning to Mary Hare this coming summer.'

'Great times!'
